4,155 Officers and Men Arrive Competition Not So Keen as on Santa Teresa, Edellyn, Finland and Liberator.

Company K of 28th Infantry, Bidders Number 290, With First to Land in France, Among Arrivals.

Four transports, the Santa Teresa, Edellyn, Pinland and Liberator, arrived army textiles were sold at auction yesyesterday with 4,155 officers and men terday at the Manhattan Opera House, of the A. E. F. With the exception of on Thirty-fourth street, under the direct a few casual companies, the returning tion of the Surplus Property Division.

On the Liberator were the medical detachment and Third Battalion of the Twenty-eighth Infantry, and the Third Field Hospital. Company K of the Twenty-eighth, according to members of the unit, was the first regular fighting organization to land in France. It went ashore at St. Nazalre on June 12, 1917. It also was the last First buyers, sitting and smoking and watching, seemed afraid to start bidding on many of the lots. Once the auctioneer shouted an opening price without result and had to lower it without a voice from the buyers announcing a part in the fighting at Sedan, November 9, 1918. The men returned under the command of Major W. F. Lee of Amherst, Mass., a regular army man who went overseas as a First Lieutenant. The company was nearly annihilated by a German attack, May 28, 1918, and Bugier W. I. Turner of 204 West Tenth street, with a few other survivors joined Company I and repulsed the attack. He was shot through the hand, but managed to kill the German who had wounded him. He has been recommended for the D. S. C.

The men spent the last day of the voyage writing their own story of their experiences, in accordance with a wireless request from Division Headquarters in New York. The only man who couldn't think of anything interesting to write about was Private George Garner of the sale stated the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about was Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about the Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about the Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last, when there about the Private George Garner of the Son many as as the last.

minister of Lima, Ohio, who returned on the Santa Teresa, went overseas with the 319th Infantry of the Seventy-eighth Division and received the D. S. C. for his work at St. Mihlel. Another Pres-byterian minister, Clinton D. Bowman of byterian minister, Clinton D. Bowman of Tulsa, Okia, disembarked yesterday from the Callao, which arrived late Wednesday evening. He won the name of the "fighting chaplain" because at St. Ettenne, October 5, he went over the top carrying a rifle, and between spells of carrying back the wounded used the weapon effectively. He explained yesterday that, being a noncombatant, he had not deliberately armed himself, but happened to stumble over a rifle as the men were going forward.
